the office-bearers of the Burgh of Edinburgh, the Provost, Bailies, Dean of Guild, Treasurer, Common Clerk, Councillors and the whole Community of the said Burgh had rendered to the King, with his brother Alexander Duke of Albany, at the peril of their lives, by freeing the King from prison in the Castle of Edinburgh, and of the singular love he had towards the said Provost, Bailies, Clerk, Councillors and Community, and for their free labours and services done and performed to the King, His Majesty gave granted and perpetually confirmed to the said Provost, Bailies, Clerk, Council, and Community, and their successors, the office of Sheriff within the Burgh for ever, to be exercised by the Provost for the time as Sheriff, and by the Bailies for the time as Sheriffs-depute conjunctly and severally, with full power to hold Courts, to punish transgressors not only by banishment but by death, to appoint officers of Court, and to do everything else appertaining to the office of Sheriff; as also to apply to their own proper use the fines and escheats arising out of the exercise of the said office, in respect of which they were taken bound to cause a funeral mass to be celebrated in the Collegiate Church of St Giles on the 3d and 4th days of August annually, for the weal of the souls of the King and his predecessors and successors. And in respect that the process of the four Courts of the said burgh was tedious and slow, the said Provost, Bailies, &c., were empowered to appoint and hold a peremptory Court of twenty-one days whensoever necessity required. Farther, the King empowered the said Provost, Bailies, &c., in all time coming, to frame make and ordain statutes and acts within the said burgh for the good government and common weal thereof, and to punish the breakers thereof at their discretion. HE following collection of Charters and other Documents relating to the City of Edinburgh was prepared and printed under the authority of the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council, who have courteously permitted the Scottish Burgh Records Society to print copies for the use of its members.

When the publication of the Charters of the City—of which this is the first instalment—is completed, and the second volume of Extracts from the Records of the Burgh is issued, all the more important historical materials in the archives of the City, illustrative of the chartered rights and civic administration of the Scottish Capital during the period over which these collections may extend, will have been made accessible to the public. In no view, indeed, can the fragments that remain of the burghal legislation of Edinburgh, before the middle of the sixteenth century, bear comparison with the complete and well preserved series of the Council Records of Aberdeen previous to that time. But the superiority of the early municipal records of the latter burgh,—exempted as they were from many of the dangers to which those of the old towns south of the Forth were exposed, will probably not be found to extend to the records immediately previous to the Reformation, and subsequent to that event ; and there can be little doubt that the importance which is attached to the later municipal records of Aberdeen, as compared with those of Edinburgh, arises from the fact that the explorations of Kennedy, Robertson, and Stuart have made them better known. So early as the middle of the fourteenth century, however, Edinburgh was regarded as the principal city of the realm. It was the seat of the Royal Court, of the Legislature, and of the Supreme Courts of Justice, and it has been the scene of many of the most stirring incidents of Scottish history since the reign of King James the First. No other burgh in Scotland occupied a position at all comparable with Edinburgh in importance or interest. It was the centre of national administration in its various departments, with all the advantages and disadvantages which that implied in times of misrule and violence. Privy Councils, Conventions of the Estates and Parliaments, Ecclesiastical Councils, General Assemblies and Conventions of the Kirk, and General and Special Conventions of the Burghs, held their usual meetings in the Capital, and there transacted the business of the nation. Sovereigns and courtiers with their retinues, ambassadors with their attendants, barons and their retainers, ecclesiastics of every grade, traders and mariners from other burghs and from foreign countries, and not unfrequently foreign auxiliary troops, crowded its streets, and gave life and variety to its society, while the presence of such heterogeneous and often hostile elements added to the cares of the magistrates, and made the preservation of the peace a matter of well-founded solicitude. The varied interests thus represented, and many of the great social, political, and religious changes through which Scotland passed during the three hundred years preceding the Union, are reflected in the civic administration, the records of which, accordingly, possess a national importance. Sometimes even those portions which seem least interesting are not the least valuable to the local historian, as throwing light upon customs and institutions the origin of which is now obscure. It is much to be desired that some competent person would write a history of Edinburgh, embodying the results of a careful investigation of original materials of which neither Maitland nor Arnot has availed himself. For the preparation of such a work, the present volume, with the first volume of Extracts from the Council Records already published, and the second volume which is passing through the press, may afford some facilities. In the meantime, it is hoped the following pages may be useful to those who take an interest in the early history of the City and its institutions, and are charged with the management of its affairs.

The Table of Contents contains an Abstract of the various Charters and other Documents printed in this volume, with a reference to the source from which each has been taken.

CHARTER by King David the Second, dated at Dunfermline, 30th December 1343, confirming the Charter of Confirmation by King Robert the First to Holyrood [No. III. hereof.]

DAUID Dei gracia Rex Scottorum: Omnibus probis hominibus tocius terre sue clericis et laycis, salutem: Sciatis nos inspexisse ac veraciter intellexisse cartam confirmacionis clare memorie domini patris nostri,

DAVID, by the grace of God King of Scots, to all good men of his whole land, clergy and laity, greeting: Know ye that we have inspected and truly non abolitam, non cancellatam nec in aliqua sui parte viciatam in hec verba :

ROBERTUS Dei gracia Rex Scottorum [etc. ut supra No. III. p. 14].

Nos vero iura et libertates predicti monasterii in omnibus conservare volentes illibatas, ac beneficia per predecessores nostros, reges Scocie, Deo et ecclesie collata augmentare cupientes; ingibus gratiarum incrementis; predictam eartam confirmacionis domini patris nostri, in omnibus punctis articulis, condicionibus et circumstanciis suis quibuscumque, forma et effectu, approbamus, ratificamus, et pro nobis et heredibus nostris eisdem abbati et conventui et eorum successoribus inperpetuum confirmamus. Et volumus quod omnes terras suas predictas habeant teneant et possideant in liberam regalitatem, cum plena administracione eiusdem regalitatis, in omnibus et per omnia, adeo libere et quiete sicut aliqua regalitas in regno nostra tenetur seu possidetur per quoscumque. Volumus eciam quod dicti abbas et conventus habeant et possideant capellaniam capelle nostre ita quod abbas dicti monasterii qui pro tempore fuerit sit capellanus noster principalis et unum canonicum suum substituat in nostra capella loco sui, qui oblaciones obaunciones et omnia alia que de iure

Ad apostolice sedis dignitatis apicem quanquam insufficientibus meritis diuina disposicione vocati ad ea ex suscepto seruitutis officio nostre propensius conuertimus solercie curas per que hospitalium et aliorum piorum locorum necnon pauperum et miserabilium personarum commoditatibus consulatur et ut illa optatum sorciantur effectum cum a nobis petitur fauorem apostolicum libenter impertimur. Sane peticio pro parte carissime in Christo filie nostre Marie Regine Scocie illustris nobis nuper exhibita continebat quod olim postquam felicis recordacionis Nicolaus Papa quintus predecessor noster ex certis tunc expressis causis Hospitale pauperum de Soltre Sanctiandree diocesis in unam dignitatem cancellariam nuncupatam in ecclesia Sanctiandree, de consensu quondam Alani Cant ipsius hospitalis tunc burgh, on the north side of the same, in the said diocese, by the most Serene Princess and lady, Lady Mary Queen of Scotland, which letters were presented to us on the part of our said Queen, and of which the tenor follows :—

Pius the Bishop, Servant of the servants of God to his venerable brother Bishop of Glasgow, greeting and the apostolic benediction. Called, although with insufficient merits, by divine dispensation to the highest dignity of the Apostolic See, we, on account of the duty of service undertaken by us, the more readily turn our anxious cares to those measures by which provision is made for the advantage of hospitals and other pious places, as well as of poor and miserable persons, and, that they may accomplish the desired end, we willingly impart the apostolic favour when it is sought from us. The petition lately presented to us on the part of our most dearly beloved daughter in Christ, Mary the illustrious Queen of Scotland, shewed that sometime after our predecessor Pope Nicholas the Fifth of happy memory, for certain causes then expressed, had by his letters with apostolic authority erected the Hospital for the poor of Soltray in the diocese of St Andrews into an office of dignity named the Chancellorship, in the church of St Andrews, with consent of the late Allan Cant then rector of the said hospital, and rectoris, per suas literas apostolica auctoritate erexerat ac de ipsa cancellaria eidem Alano prouiderat cancellaria predicta que de iure patronatus laicorum Regis Scotorum pro tempore existentis fore noscitur per obitum dieti Alani qui vsque ad vltimum vite sue diem cancellariam ipsam pacifice tenuit ac possedit et tandem extra Romanam curiam decessit vacante clare memorie Jacobus Scotorum Rex dum vineret verus et unicus patronus dietie cancellarie existens in pacifica possessione sui quasi iuris presentandi personam ydoneam ad cancellariam ipsam dum pro tempore vacaret dilectum filium Johannem Tyry clericum Sanctiandree baccalarium in decretis ad cancellariam ipsam sic vacantem vicario venerabilis fratris nostri episeopi Sanctiandree in spiritualibus generali infra tempus debitum presentauit ipseque vicarius ad presentacionem huiusmodi prefatum Johannem in cancellariam dietie ecclesie ordinaria auctoritate instituit ac idem Johannes presentacionis et institutionis huiusmodi vigore dietam cancellariam extitit pacifice assecutus. Cum autem sicut eadem peticio subiungebat prefata Maria Regina ad laudem Omnipotentis Dei vnam Collegiatam Ecclesiam cum Hospitali pauperum prope Burgum had provided from the said chancellorship to the said Allan the chancellorship foresaid, which is known to belong by right of laic patronage to the King of Scotland for the time being, then vacant by the death of the said Allan, who to the last day of life peaceably held and possessed the said Chancellorship, and at length died outwith the Roman Court, James King of Scots, of illustrious memory, the true and only patron of the said chancellorship, while he lived being in peaceable possession of the virtual right of presenting a fit person to the said Chancellorship, when it was vacant presented within due time our beloved son John Tyry, of St Andrews, bachelor in laws, clerk, for the said Chancellorship thus vacant to the Vicar general in things spiritual of our venerable brother the bishop of St Andrews, and the said vicar on that presentation, by his authority as Ordinary inducted the foresaid John to the Chancellorship of the said church, and the said John in virtue of such presentation and induction peaceably obtained the said Chancellorship. Since, moreover, as the said petition subjoined, the said Queen Mary, of the goods bestowed on her by God, has of new founded and in splendid manner has caused to be constructed and erected for the praise of Almighty God, a Collegiate Church with an Hospital for the poor near the Burgh its ineffable brightness illuminates the world, of the clemency of its majesty accompanies with benignant favour the pious vows of the faithful when their devout humility and sincere zeal for the furthering of divine worship are distinguished for fervour. We, therefore, deriving example for things below from those above, are induced, both by the vigour and zeal of equity and the course of reason, to favour the pious desires and earnest prayers of supplicants whom faith, hope, and charity continually stir up to zeal of devotion, so that being disposed to grace and invited to glory they may the more diligently persevere in pious actions. We have received the letters of that most potent Princess and lady, Lady Mary, by the grace of God Queen of Scotland, sealed with her seal, containing the pious and laudable proposal of the said princess, desiring to constitute and found a perpetual College or Collegiate Church, of one provost and eight chaplains and two boys to perform divine worship therein, near the Burgh of Edinburgh, on the north side of the same, with an Hospital for the maintenance therein in all time coming of thirteen poor persons, from the lands and churches of the benefice of Soltray by apostolic authority united to and incorporated with the said College and its Hospital, and also from the lands of Ballerno and the hospital of Uthirregale, and its other lands,

Most High is praised and succour rendered to the necessities of poor and other wretched persons in Hospitals and other pious places, and to those foundations which we find have made progress in this respect, that they may remain unimpaired for ever, we have added the strength of apostolic confirmation. Truly the petition, lately presented to us on the part of our beloved daughter in Christ, Mary the illustrious Queen of Scots, contained, that formerly she, having regard to her own weal, and for works of charity, especially to the poor and needy, stretching out her hands according to the lessons of the Gospel, whilst as yet James II. of distinguished memory, King of Scots her husband was alive, caused to be constructed and built a certain hospital for the reception of poor and needy persons outwith the royal City of Edinburgh, in the diocese of St Andrews, and endowed the same, and afterwards waiting with provident consideration for the fruit of good works, and more fervently aspiring to greater offices of piety, she erected near the Hospital aforesaid a noble church or chapel for the College that had been founded, viz., of one Provost and ten or twelve priests and clerks there in collegiate manner, and perpetually to serve the Most High, and has continued the church aforesaid with magnificent and sumptuous work, and intends as soon as possible, with the assistance of divine grace,

She has besides assigned for the endowment of the said church a good barony and other possessions, property, annual rents, and goods to the sum of one hundred merks or thereby; and with the favour of God intends more amply to enlarge the said endowment in future. Since, moreover, our predecessor, Pope Nicholas V. of happy memory, by certain letters of his, ordered a certain hospital for the poor, called the Hospital of Soltray, of said diocese, which in right of patronage is known to belong to the King of Scots for the time being, and lay under a shapeless ruin, and in which no hospitality was kept, to be erected into a chancellorship of the church of St Andrews, and we afterwards, for certain reasonable causes then expressed, by our other letters commanded the Hospital aforesaid, which in right of patronage belongs to the foresaid King, in answer to the humble supplications of the foresaid Queen for the union and erection of such chancellorship, to be united to the new Hospital aforesaid, as in the several letters aforesaid, and the decrees and processes regarding them is said to be more fully contained. On the part of our most dearly beloved son in Christ, James the present King of Scots, the eldest son of the said Queen, and also of the foresaid Queen, it was humbly supplicated of us, that we should of our apostolic benignity be pleased to unite nos et Romanam ecclesiam gerere comprobatis, non indigne meretur, ut his, que ad divini nominis laudem et gloriam, pauperum quoque et egenorum profectum atque animarum salutem pia sunt ordinatione disposita, ut continuis proficiant incrementis ac perpetua illibata persistant, apostolici muniminis adiciamus firmitatem. Dudum siquidem pro parte tua nobis exposito, quod olim postquam felicis recordationis Nicolaus papa V. predecessor noster, ex certis causis tunc expressis, hospitale pauperum de Soltre Sancti Andree diocesis in unam dignitatem, Cancellariam nonecupatam, in ecclesia Sancti Andree de consensu quondam Alani Cant, ipsius hospitalis tunc Rectoris, per suas litteras auctoritate apostolica erexerat, ac de ipsa Cancellaria eidem Alano providerat, Cancellaria predicta, que de iure patronatus Regis Scotorum pro tempore existit, per obitum dicti Alani, qui usque ad ultimum vite sue dictam Cancellariam ipsam pacifice tenuit et possedit, ac tandem extra Romanam Curiam decessit, vacante, clare memorie, Iacobus Scotorum Rex, verus, dum viveret, et unicus ipsius Cancellarie patronus, dilectum filium Iohannem Tyri clericum Sancti Andree diocesis, art shewn to bear towards us and the Church of Rome, not unworthily, well deserves that we should add the confirmation of our apostolical muniment to those arrangements which have been made by pious ordinance for the praise and glory of the Divine name, as well as for the advantage of the poor and necessitous, and the weal of souls, so that they may be enriched by continual additions, and remain for ever unimpaired. Inasmuch as it was explained to us a short time ago on thy behalf, that after our predecessor, Pope Nicholas the fifth of happy memory, for certain explicit reasons at the time had, with apostolic authority, by his letters erected the Hospital for the poor of Soltray, in the diocese of St Andrews, into an office of dignity in the Church of St Andrews, named the Chancellorship, with consent of the late Allan Cant, then rector of the said hospital, and had provided the said Allan with the same chancellorship, the chancellorship foresaid, which belongs by right of patronage to the King of Scotland for the time, becoming vacant by the death of the said Allan, who, to the last day of his life, peaceably held and possessed the said chancellorship, and at length died outwith the Roman Court, James, King of Scots, of famous memory, the true and only patron of the said chancellorship while he lived, had presented, within the lawful time, our beloved son John of bacallarium in decretis, ad Cancellariam ipsam sic vacantem Vicario Venerabilis fratris nostri Episcopi Sancti Andree in spiritualibus generali infra tempus legitimum presentaverat, ipseque Vicarius eundem Iohannem in Cancellarium eiusdem ecclesie ordinaria auctoritate instituerat, quarum quidem presentationis et institutionis vigore idem Iohannes Cancellariam predictam pacifice fuerat assecutus; ac subiuncto, quod tu ad laudem Omnipotentis Dei unam Collegiatam ecclesiam cum hospitali pauperum prope burgum de Edymburg ex parte boreali, dicte diocesis, pro divini cultus augmento, ac Christi pauperum et aliarum miserabilium personarum receptione et sustentatione, de bonis tibi a Deo collatis de novo fundaveras, ac egregio quodam opere construi et edificari feceras, et tam carissimus in Christo filius noster Iacobus Scotorum Rex Illustris, cuius progenitores ipsum hospitale de Soltre ad usum Christi pauperum fundarunt, voluntates suorum progenitorum pro posse observari facere, quam tu, ut prefatum in Cancellariam erectum hospitale ad statum pristinum restitueretur, ipsique novo hospitali erecto incorporaretur, ferventer exoptabatis, prefatus quoque Rex ad hoc consensum prestare paratus existeret, et

Tyre, clerk of the diocese of St Andrews, bachelor-in-laws, for the chancellorship thus vacant, to the Vicar-general in things spiritual of our venerable brother the Bishop of St Andrews, and the said vicar, by his authority as Ordinary, had inducted the said John to the Chancellorship of the same church, by virtue of which presentation and induction the said John had peaceably obtained the said Chancellorship; and it being subjoined that thou, of the goods bestowed on thee by God, hadst anew founded, and in splendid manner hadst caused to be constructed and erected, to the praise of Almighty God, a Collegiate Church with an Hospital for the poor, near the Burgh of Edinburgh, on the north side, in the said diocese, for the furthering of divine worship, for the reception and maintenance of Christ's poor and other miserable persons; and both our most beloved son in Christ, James, illustrious King of Scots, whose forefathers founded the said Hospital of Soltray for the use of Christ's poor, in order that the wishes of his ancestors might be observed as far as possible, and thyself, fervently desired that the foresaid Hospital, which had been erected into a Chancellorship, should be restored to its pristine state and be incorporated with the same newly erected

prout accepimus, ipse Iohannes in favorem dicte unionis, et ut etiam Cancellaria ipsa ad hospitale de Soltre, sicuti prius fuerat, reduceretur, eandem Cancellariam, quam obtinebat, sponte et libere resignare proponeret: Nos tuis in ea parte precibus inclinati, Episcopo Glasguensi, eius proprio nomine non expresso, per alias nostras litteras dedimus in mandatis, ut vocatis Episcopo Sancti Andree prefato, ac dilectis filiis Capitulo dicte ecclesie Sancti Andree, et aliis, quorum interest, de premissis omnibus et singulis, eorumque circumstantiis universis auctoritate nostra se diligenter informaret, et si per informationem huiusmodi ita esse reperiret, ab ipso Iohanne vel procuratore suo ad hoc ab eo specialiter constituto resignationem huiusmodi, si illam in suis manibus sponte facere vellet, auctoritate nostra ea vice dumtaxat reciperet et admitteret, eaque per ipsum recepta et admissa, Cancellariam ipsam, cum per resignationem ipsam vacaret, dummodo tunc non esset in ea alicui specialiter ius quesitum, ac prefati Regis ad id expressus assensus accederet, nomine dignitateque ipsius Cancellarie in ipsa ecclesia per eum suppressis et penitus extinctis, eodem hospitali de Soltre in statum pristinum reducto, illudque in omnibus iuribus et pertinentiis suis novo hospitali prefato eadem auctoritate perpetuo

Hospital for ever, and that the foresaid King was prepared to give his consent to this, and, as we understood, the said John proposed of his own will and freely to resign the said Chancellorship which he held, in favour of such union, and also in order that the said Chancellorship should be reconverted into the Hospital of Soltray, as it had been formerly: We, being favourably disposed to thy petition in that regard, by others our letters commissioned the Bishop of Glasgow, his proper name not being expressed, that the Bishop of St Andrews aforesaid, and our beloved sons the Chapter of the said Church of St Andrews, and others whom it concerns, being summoned, he might inform himself diligently on our authority concerning all and sundry the things aforesaid and all their attendant circumstances, and if by such information he should find it so to be, to receive and accept such resignation, by our authority, from the said John or his procurator appointed by him for this purpose, but only in case he should wish freely to make the same at his own hands; and the said resignation being received and accepted by him, to take over the said Chancellorship, when, by such resignation, it should become vacant, provided no one should then have any special right in it, and uniret, annecteret et incorporaret ; ita quod liceret ex tunc Rectori dicti novi hospitalis per se, vel alium seu alios corporalem possessionem hospitalis de Soltre, iuriumque et pertinentiarum predictorum auctoritate propria apprehendere et perpetuo retinere, ac illius fructus, redditus et proventus in sustentationem pauperum et infirmorum, ac alias in utilitatem ipsorum hospitalium iuxta formam constitutionis pie memorie Clementis pape V. predecessoris super hoc in concilio Viennensi edite convertendos percipere, diocesani loci et cuiusvis alterius super hoc licentia minime requisita, prout in dictis litteris, in quibus quod Alanus Cant tunc ipsius hospitalis de Soltre Rector existeret, et illud in Cancellariam predictam erigi fecisset, expressum fuit, plenius continetur. Cum autem pro parte tua nuper nobis exhibita petitio continebat, [quod] Venerabilis frater noster Thomas modernus Episcopus Dunkeldensis, et non Alanus prefatus, dictam Cancellariam erigi procuraverit, ac tempore date litterarum earundem ecclesia prefata that the express consent of the said King should be added ; and the name and dignity of the same Chancellorship in the said church having been by him totally suppressed and extinguished, and the same Hospital of Soltray being reduced to its pristine state, by the same authority, to unite, annex, and incorporate it, in all its rights and pertinents, to the said new Hospital for ever ; so that it might be lawful thenceforth to the Rector of the said new Hospital, by himself or others, one or more, on his own authority, to take and retain for ever corporal possession of the Hospital of Soltray and its rights and pertinents aforesaid, and its fruits, rents, and profits, for the sustentation of the poor and infirm, and otherwise for the use of the same Hospitals, according to the form of constitution of our predecessor, Pope Clement V. of pious memory, promulgated regarding this matter in the Council of Vienne, the permission of the diocesan of the place, or of any other whatever, to this effect, not being in any way required, as in the said letters (in which it was expressed that Allan Cant was then rector of the said Hospital of Soltray, and had caused it to be erected into the foresaid Chancellorship) is more fully contained. But since the petition lately presented to us on thy behalf set forth that our venerable brother Thomas, present Bishop of Dunkeld, and not the foresaid Allan, procured the said Chancellorship to be erected, and at the time of the date of the same letters the foresaid church had not as yet been wholly collegiated, nor nondum in collegiatam totaliter erecta, neque sumptuosis structuris completa fuerit, ac prius dictus Iohannes resignationem ipsam in manibus prefati Episcopi Sancti Andree, et deinde eiusdem Episcopi Glasguensis fecerit, propter que de ipsarum litterarum viribus posset forsitan hesitari: Nos ne propter ea dictę litterę de surreptione notari valeant, providere volentes, tuis in hac parte supplicationibus inclinati, volumus et apostolica auctoritate decrevimus, quod litterę nostre predictę ac processus habiti per easdem, et quecunque inde secuta a data presentium valeant, plenamque roboris firmitatem obtineant in omnibus et per omnia, ac si in illis, quod Thomas et non Alanus erectionem predictam fieri procurasset, ac Iohannes prefatus dictam resignationem in manibus prefati Episcopi Sancti Andree loci ordinarii primo ad effectum huiusmodi, et subsequenter in ipsius Glasguensis Episcopi manibus fecisset, expressum extitisset, quodque tempore litterarumstrarum earundem dicta ecclesia totaliter expleta et in collegiatam ecclesiam erecta foret, nulla mentio facta fuisset. Non obstantibus premissis, ac omnibus illis, que in dictis litteris non obstare volumus, ceterisque contrariis quibus-completed in splendid structure, and that the forementioned John made the said resignation in the hands of the foresaid Bishop of St Andrews, and thereafter in those of the same Bishop of Glasgow, on account of which doubts might perchance be entertained regarding the validity of the said letters, We, being favourably disposed towards thy supplications in that regard, desiring to guard against the possibility of the said letters being on that account branded as surreptitious, will, and by apostolic authority have decreed, that our foresaid letters, and the proceedings had in respect thereof, and whatsoever has followed thereon, may from the date of these presents have force, and may obtain the full force of validity in all and through all, as if in them it had been expressly set forth that Thomas, and not Alan, had procured the said erection to be made, and that the foresaid John had made the said resignation to this effect, first in the hands of the foresaid Bishop of St Andrews, the Ordinary of the See, and afterwards in those of the Bishop of Glasgow, and that at the time of our said letters, no mention had been made that the said church was wholly complete, and had been erected into a Collegiate Church. The premises, and all those things in the said letters which we wish not to stand in the way, and everthing else to a contrary purpose notwithstanding. Let no one, therefore (dare) to

BULL by Pope Pius the Second, granting a plenary indulgence to all who in a devout spirit of contrition visit the Church of Trinity College in the course of five years during the Feast of its Dedication, on the 10th of July or its Octaves, &c. Dated 27th August 1463.

PIUS II. etc. To all the faithful in Christ, who shall see these present letters, greeting, etc. A very great gift certainly is wont to be conferred on a Christian people, when an opportune piety offers itself in pity to wash away the stains of minds, and to obtain celestial happiness, especially when at once both the house of God is enlarged and succour is afforded to the indigence of Christ's poor; but although the Almighty himself has incessantly repaid the faithful with gifts much greater than their merits, yet for strengthening and encouraging their minds, we have in our clemency been wont to open our benignant lap and that of our pious mother the Apostolic See. Having, therefore, learned that a famous Collegiate Church, or Chapel, or Hospital of poor of the Holy Trinity outwith the royal city of Edinburgh, in the diocese of St Andrews, has been founded by our dearest daughter in Christ Mary, the widow of James the Second of renowned memory, King of Scots, and has been erected for one pro-

We also, in consideration both of James the Third and of his illustrious mother Mary aforesaid, and that the faithful may be the more readily induced and incited to evince such devotion and assistance, since, from the gift of divine grace there made, they have seen themselves more abundantly refreshed; confiding in the mercy of Almighty God, and of the authority of St Peter and St Paul his apostles; by the tenor of these presents, grant and bestow on all the faithful in Christ of both sexes wheresoever they may be, truly penitent and confessed, who, on the tenth day of the month of July, which is the day of dedication of the said church, and on the octave of the same, from the first vespers to the second vespers inclusive, shall, within the appointed five years, have visited the said church, chapel, or hospital, and with contrite hearts have made oral confession, and have stretched out helping hands to this pious

Moreover, that the said faithful, as we have said above, visiting and assisting, may the more easily obtain the salvation of their souls and the divine compassion, we also, by the tenor of these presents, grant to suitable confessors, seculars or regulars of whatsoever order, to be deputed by our beloved son the Provost of the said church, and the Collector of the Apostolic Chamber for the time being, according to the concurrence of the faithful flowing thither, as shall seem expedient, on the said quinquennial day of the said dedi-

ABSTRACT of Charter by King Henry the Sixth of England, in favour of the Community of Edinburgh, granting liberty to them and their successors to traffic in England, on payment of the same dues as those paid by the citizens of London. 2d January 1463-4.

CHARTER by King Henry the Sixth of England, whereby on the narrative that he and his Royal Consort Margaret, and his son Edward, Prince of Wales, with divers of his nobility, having been expelled from his kingdom of England by certain rebellious traitors, had on his arrival, and during his long residence in Edinburgh, been honourably received and with great humanity, and had been favourably entertained by the Provost and Community of Edinburgh; therefore he granted to the said Community and their successors full and free liberty to traffic in England as the natives thereof, and to pay no other duties for their merchandise than his subjects the citizens of London did. Dated 2d January in the fifty-first year of his reign 1463-4.

BULL by Pope Paul the Second, granting, on the petition of the Provost, Bailies, Councillors, and Community of Edinburgh, commission to the Bishop of Galloway and the Abbot of Holyrood to erect the church of St Giles into a Collegiate Church. Rome, 22d February 1467.

Sancti Andree diocesis, salutem etc. In eminenti specula militantis ecclesie constitutus Romanus pontifex, beati Petri celestis Clavigeri successor, pervigilis more pastoris sue prudentie oculis universum orbem terrarum, ac nationum in eo degentium qualitates paterna consideratione disentiens, ac examinans diligenter, ex iniuncto sibi desuper pastoralis officii onere ecclesiarum omnium venustatem appetens et exquirens, quasdam exaltat et sublevat, ac ad maioris titulum dignitatis attollit, ut ex hoc locus alias populositate, reliquisque ad humane vite commodum necessariis ceber et insignis videatur merito illustrandus, ac per erectionis ministerium ecclesiis ipsis titulus sublimioris excellentie augeatur pariter et decoris: pia quoque et salubria fidelium vota, ex quibus divini cultus speratur augmentum, salusque proveniat animarum, pii patris affectione prosequitur, ac paternis favoribus confovet, et ut optatum sortiantur effectum, opem libentius et operam attentius imperit. Cum itaque, sicut exhibita nobis nuper pro parte dilectorum filiorum Prepositi Balivorum et Consulum laicorum ac Universitatis opidi de Edynburgh Sancti Andree diocesis petitio continebat, ipsi pro-

Edinburgh, in the diocese of St Andrews, greeting &c. Stationed on the lofty watchtower of the church militant, the Roman Pontiff, successor of St Peter, key-bearer of Heaven, after the manner of a watchful shepherd, with the eye of his prudence and with paternal consideration contemplating and carefully examining the whole world and the qualities of the nations dwelling therein, on account of the burden of the pastoral office enjoined on him from above earnestly striving to promote the comeliness of all churches, some of them he exalts and elevates, and raises to titles of greater dignity, so that by this means a place otherwise distinguished and celebrated for population and other things necessary for the advantage of human life may appear deservedly illustrated, and by the ministry of erection the said churches may be raised to a higher style of excellence and dignity; with the affection also of a pious father he assists, and with paternal favours cherishes, the pious and profitable prayers of the faithful, from which an increase of divine worship is hoped for and the salvation of souls is promoted, and that they may procure the desired effect imparts his assistance more freely and labours more assiduously. Seeing therefore that, as the petition lately exhibited to us on the part of our beloved sons the Provost, Bailies, lay Councillors, and Community of the town of Edinburgh, in the diocese of Cum autem premissa viribus non subsistant, pro parte Prepositi, Balivorum, Consulum et Universitatis predictorum nobis fuit humiliter supplicatum, ut ipsos in tam pio et salubri proposito confoventes, eis super hiis oportune providere de benignitate apostolica dignaremur. Nos igitur, qui cultus eiusdem intensis affectibus exquirimus ubilibet incrementum, pium prepositum huiusmodi plurimum in domino commendantes, ac sperantes maximum ex premissis eisdem fidelibus profectum emersurum fore, huiusmodi supplicationibus inclinati discretioni vestre per apostolica scripta mandamus, quatenus vos vel alter vestrum de predictis omnibus et singulis vos diligenter informetis, et si per informationem huiusmodi illa fore vera

Seeing moreover that the premises are not supported by sufficient powers, a humble supplication has been made to us on the part of the Provost, Bailies, Council, and Community aforesaid, that we favouring them in so pious and advantageous a proposal, should be pleased of our apostolic benignity to make a suitable provision for them in these matters. We therefore who with intense anxiety enquire after the increase of such worship everywhere, very highly commending in the Lord such a pious proposal, and hoping that very great profit to the faithful will arise from the premises, listening favourably to these supplications, by our Apostolic writings commit to your discretion, that you or either of you shall diligently inform yourselves of all and sundry the circumstances foresaid, and if by such information you find them to

BULL by Pope Paul the Second, exempting the Collegiate Church of St Giles, with its Clergy, from the jurisdiction of the Bishop of St Andrews, and subjecting the same directly to the Holy See. Rome, 30th April 1470.

PAULUS EPISCOPUS etc. Ad perpetuam rei memoriam. Etsi universe orbis ecclesie, ac in illis divinis obsequiis mancipate persone apostolice sedi, que divina institutione super ipsas ordinarie potestatis obtinet principatum, subesse dinoscantur: aliquas tamen interdum de sue auctoritatis plenitudine sedes ipsa specialius sibi subdit, sic eas illarumque res et bona a cuiuslibet alterius iurisdictione prorsus eripiens, ut nullum nisi Romanum Pontificem, et quem sedes predicta ad id specialiter duxerit deputandum, Superiorem et dominum recognoscant, ipsas quodam singulari privilegio liberas penitus et exemptas de cetero fore censendo. Dudum siquidem pro parte carissimi in Christo filii nostri Iacobi Scotorum Regis Illustris, ac dilectorum filiorum Prepositi, Balivorum, Consulum et Universitatis opidi de

PAUL the Bishop, etc. For the perpetual memory of the fact. Although the churches of the whole world and the persons in them devoted to the divine worship are known to be subject to the Apostolic see, which by divine institution holds over them the chief place of ordinary power, yet sometimes in the plenitude of its authority the said see subjects some of them more especially to itself, taking them and their effects altogether from under the jurisdiction of any other whatsoever, in such manner that they recognise no superior or lord except the Roman Pontiff and him whom the see foresaid has thought fit to depute specially for that purpose, decreeing by a singular privilege that they be altogether free and exempt for the rest. Inasmuch as it has long ago been explained to us on the part of our most dearly beloved son in Christ, James the illustrious King of Scots, and of our beloved sons the Provost, Bailies, Edynburg Sancti Andree diocesis nobis exposito, quod opidum ipsum iuxta alia opida Regni Scotie insigne et populosum erat, et in illo quampluries prelati et alii proceres et magnates illarum partium residebant, prout resident de presenti, nec non ad ipsum opidum nationum diversarum mundi partium multitudo confluit copiosa, quodque parochialis ecclesia sancti Egidii opidi memorati inter ceteras parochiales partium earundam famosa et honorabilis erat: Nos ecclesiam ipsam in Collegiatam ecclesiam, in eaque unam Preposituram, que inibi dignitas principalis existeret, et quam plures Canonatus et prebendas, necnon officia et alia beneficia ecclesiastica ereximus et creavimus prout in nostris inde confectis litteris plenius continetur. Cum autem, sicut, pro parte Regis, Prepositi, Balivorum, Consulum et Universitatis eorundem nobis nuper oblata peticio continebat, idem Rex, qui in opido antedicto ut plurimum residet, ad ecclesiam ipsam, utpote sui intuitu insignitam, singularem gerat devotionis affectum, eamque ac personas inibi divinis laudibus insistentes pluribus immunitatibus et privilegiis decorare intendat: pro parte Regis, Balivorum, Prepositi, Consulum et Universitatis predictorum nobis fuit humiliter supplicatum, ut pro

Councillors, and Community of the town of Edinburgh, in the diocese of St Andrews, that the said town was no less famous and populous than other cities of the kingdom of Scotland, and that in it the prelates and other nobles and great men of these parts very often resided, as they do at present, besides that the people of different nations in the world resort to the said town in great numbers, and that the Parish Church of St Giles of the said town was famous and honourable among the other parochial churches of those parts; we have erected and created the said Church into a Collegiate Church, and in it one provostry, which was to be the principal dignity there, and very many canonries and prebends as well as other offices and ecclesiastical benefices, as is more fully contained in our letters made thereupon. Since, moreover, as a petition lately presented to us on the part of the said King, Provost, Bailies, Councillors, and Community contained, the said King, who for the most part resides in the said town, bears a peculiar devotion to the said church, as honoured by his own presence, and intends to endow it and the persons celebrating the divine praises therein with many immunities and privileges, it was humbly supplicated of us ipsius ecclesie venustate et decore, ne immunitates et privilegia ipsa per Venerabilem fratrem nostrum Patricium, et successores suos pro tempore existentes Episcopos Sancti Andree passim infringi contingat, eam ab omni superioritate et dominio Episcoporum eorundem, ad instar nonnullarum aliarum Collegiatarum ecclesiarum Regni prefati, eximere et liberare, ac ipsorum desiderio annuere, et alias super hiis oportune providere de benignitate apostolica dignaremur. Nos igitur, qui ecclesiarum ac personarum earundem statum absque alicuius agitationis perturbatione cupimus in pacis ac quietis amenitate letari, ipsarumque profectus et commoda intensius desideriiis affectamus, huiusmodi supplicationibus inclinati, tam ecclesiam prefatam, quam dilectos filios modernos et pro tempore existentes Prepositum singulosque Canonicos, Capellanos, Vicarios, chorarios, presbiteros et alios quoscumque clericos, etiam dignitates, personatus, administrationes vel officia, seu alia beneficia ecclesiastica in eadem ecclesia obtinentes, una cum eorum familiaribus continuis commensalibus, ipsisque ac eidem ecclesie servientibus, presentibus et futuris, nec non predictorum ac ecclesie antedictae bonis et rebus aliis quibuscumque, etiam extra eandem ecclesiam ubilibet on the part of the King, Bailies, Provost, Councillors and Community aforesaid, that, for the grace and honour of the said church, lest it should happen that the said immunities and privileges might be gradually infringed by our venerable brother Patrick and his successors for the time being Bishops of St Andrews, we should of our apostolic benignity deign to exempt and relieve it from all superiority and dominion of the said Bishops, after the manner of several other collegiate churches of the foresaid kingdom, and to assent to their desire, and otherwise to make suitable provision for these things. We therefore, who desire that the state of the said churches and persons should, without being disturbed by any agitation, rejoice in the amenity of peace and quiet, and most earnestly seek their profit and advantage, listening favourably to such supplications, entirely exempt and altogether for ever relieve both the said church and our beloved sons, the present and for the time being provost, and the several canons, chaplains, vicars, choristers, presbyters, and other clergy whosoever, also those holding dignities, cures, administrations or offices or other ecclesiastical benefices in the said church, along with their constant associates, sitting at the same table, and serving them and the foresaid church, present and future, also the existentibus, ab omni iurisdictione, dominio, potestate, superioritate et visitatione predicti, ac successorum pro tempore existentium Episcoporum S. Andree, eorumque Vicariorum, Officialium, Commissariorum et aliorum quorumlibet, iurisdictionem ordinariam in ecclesiam et alios predictos de iure, vel consuetudine exercere valentium, prorsus eximimus, et totaliter perpetuo liberamus, ac sub beati Petri atque nostra et diete sedis protectione suscipimus, ita quod ratione contractus, sive delicti aut rei de qua ageretur, Episcopi, Vicarii, Officiales, Commissarii et alii predicti, aut quevis alia persona secularis, regularis, ecclesiastica vel mundana, quacumque prefulgeat dignitate, nullam in eos omnes et singulos, ac res et bona predicta iurisdictionem, potestatem, visitationem, exactionem aut superioritatem valeant quomodolibet exercere, seu predictos omnes et singulos quoquomodo molestare, sed coram eadem sede eiusque Legatis vel subdelegatis dumtaxat de iusticia respondere teneantur, decernentes ex nunc omnes et singulos processus, ac excommunicationis suspensionis et interdicti aliasque sententias, censuras et penas in eandem ecclesiam aut predictos, vel eorum quemlibet per Episcopos Vicarios, Officiales, Commissarios et alios prefatos, seu eorum goods and other effects whatsoever of the persons and of the church aforesaid, even although existing anywhere outside the said church, from all jurisdiction, dominion, power, superiority and visitation of the bishop of St Andrews aforesaid, and of his successors for the time being, and of their Vicars, Officials, Commissaries, and all others empowered to exercise ordinary jurisdiction over the church and others before mentioned either by law or custom; and we take them under the protection of St Peter, of ourselves and of the said see, so that in the matter of contract, or delict, or of property which is the subject of action, the Bishops, Vicars, Officials, Commissaries and others aforesaid, or any other person, secular, regular, ecclesiastical or temporal, with what dignity soever he may be distinguished, shall have no power to exercise any jurisdiction, authority, visitation, exaction, or superiority over the persons all and sundry, and the effects and goods aforesaid, in any manner of way, or in any way to molest the persons all and sundry aforesaid, but they shall be bound to answer in judgment before the said see and its legates or delegates only, declaring that henceforth all and sundry processes, and sentences of excommunication, suspension, interdict, and the like, and all censures and penalties against the church or persons aforesaid or any of them, by the Bishops, Vicars, Officials, Commissaries, aliquem forsan ferendas et promulgandas irritas et inanes ac nullius roboris vel momenti existere. Preterea dicto Preposito, ut Canonicos, Capellanos et alios predictos ad residendum in eadem ecclesia, ac illic in divinis obsequiis cum condecensibus et honestis habitibus tam in choro quam alibi, prout eis ordinatum fuerit, etiam per subtractionem seu retentionem fructuum, reddituum et proventuum Canonice et prebendarum, ac dignitatum, personatum, administrationum et officiorum, nec non aliorum beneficiorum ecclesiasticorum, que in illa obtinent, serviendum compellere, quodque vagantes, inhonestos, dissolutos, et ad id rebelles et inobedientes, sententiis censuris et penis ecclesiasticis oportunis corrigere, et mulctare libere et licite valeat, concedimus per presentes, non obstantibus constitutionibus et ordinationibus apostolicis, ceterisque contrariis quibuscumque. Volumus tamen, quod Prepositus, Canonici et Capitulum dicte ecclesie pro recognitione exemptionis huiusmodi Camere apostolice in vigilia beatorum Petri et Pauli Apostolorum unam unciam auri puri annuatim solvere teneantur. Nulli ergo etc. nostre exemptionis, liberationis, susceptionis, constitutionis, concessionis et voluntatis infringere etc. Si quis autem etc. Datum and others aforesaid, or any of them, that may perchance be passed and promulgated, are invalid, void, and of no force or moment. Moreover we by these presents grant power to the said provost to compel the canons, chaplains, and others aforesaid to reside in the said church, and to serve there in divine observances with decent and becoming vestments as well in the choir as elsewhere, as shall have been appointed to them, even by the withdrawal or retention of the fruits, revenues and proceeds of the canonries and prebends, and of the dignities, cures, administrations and offices, as well as of other ecclesiastical benefices which they hold in it, and to correct and punish freely and lawfully the truant, dishonest and dissolute, as well as the rebellious and disobedient with suitable ecclesiastical sentences, censures and penalties; all apostolic and other constitutions and ordinances to the contrary notwithstanding. We will however that the Provost, Canons, and Chapter of said church, for the recognition of such exemption of the apostolic chamber be bound to pay annually on the vigil of St Peter and St Paul the apostles one ounce of pure gold. INSTRUMENT upon the production of the above Bond to the Community of Edinburgh, by Garter King at Arms. 27th October 1482.

IN Dei nomine, Amen : Per hoc presens publicum instrumentum cunctis appareat euidenter quod anno Domini millesimo quadringentesimo octuagesimo secundo, indiccione prima, pontificatus sanctissimi in Christo patris et domini nostri, domini Sixti diuina prouidencia Pape quarti anno duodecimo, mensis vero Octobris die vicesimo septimo ; In vestibulo ecclesie parochialis Sancti Egidii ville de Edinbourgh, diocesis Sancti Andree in Seocia situate, coram venerabilibus, discretis, et honestis viris, Patricio Baron, preposito, David Crawford balliuo, ac Waltero Bartrem, Roberto de Bonkyll, Georgio Bartrem, Bartholomeo Carnis, Georgio Barker, Roberto Vassyr, et Willelmo Farley, mercatoribus et burgensibus dicte ville de Edinbourgh, ac nonnullis aliis eiusdem ville mercatoribus, burgensibus et communitatibus, In mei Johannis Richardson notarii publici subscripti et testium infra nominatorum presencia, constitutus personaliter discretus vir Gartier Rex Armorum, nuncius,

IN the name of God, Amen. By this present public instrument be it manifestly apparent to all, that in the year of our Lord one thousand four hundred and eighty-two, in the first indiction, in the twelfth year of the pontificate of the most holy father in Christ and our lord, the lord Sixtus the fourth, by diuine providence Pope, on the twenty-seventh day of the month of October, in the porch of the parish church of St Giles, in the town of Edinburgh, situate in the diocese of St Andrews in Scotland, before venerable, discreet, and honourable men : Patrick Baron, provost, David Crawford, bailie, and Walter Bartram, Robert of Bonkyll, George Bartrem, Barthlomew Carnis, George Barker, Robert Vassyr, and William Farley, merchants and burgesses of the said town of Edinburgh, and several other merchants, burgesses, and the community of the said town ; in presence of me, John Richardson, notary public underwritten, and of the witnesses afternamed, compeared personally a discreet man, Garter King of Arms, the seruiens, procurator, orator, factor et ambassiator vt asseruit, christianissimi principis et domini, domini Edwardi, Dei gracia, Regis Anglie et Fancie, ac Domini Hibernie, tenens et habens in manibus suis, quandam pergameni scedulam, et inter cetera tunc ibidem communicata idem Gartier eandem scedulam et contenta in eadem publice alta et intelligibili voce legit, sub isto qui sequitur tenore verborum :

messenger, servant, procurator, spokesman, factor, and ambassador, as he asserted, of the most Christian Prince and Lord, Lord Edward, by the grace of God King of England and of France, and Lord of Ireland, holding and having in his hands a certain schedule of parchment, and among other things then and there made known the said Garter read the same schedule and the contents thereof publicly in a loud and intelligible voice according to the tenor of words which follows :—

I Gartier King of Armes, servannt, proctour, and messenger vnto the most high and mighty Prince my moost drad Souerain Lord, lord Edward, by the grace of God, King of England and of Fraunce and Lord of Irland, by vertue of certane lettres of procuraeye here redy to be shewed by me by my seid Souerain Lord made and yeuen, make notice and yene knowlich vnto you Provost, Burgeyses, Merchants, and Communitie of the towne of Edenbough in Scotland, that where as it was somtyme commowned and agreed betwix my said Souerain Lord on the oon partye, and the right high and mighty Prince Jamys King of Scotts on the other partie, that mariage and matrimonye shuld haue ben solempnized and had bitwix James the furst begoten son of the said King of Scotts and Cicile daughter to my said Souuerain Lord the King of England, and for the said mariage ben performed, certaine and diuers grete soumes of money ben paid and contented by my said Souuerain Lord, whiche soumes of money, in caas of refusal of the said mariage by my said Souuerain Lord to be made and declared, ye the said Provost, Burgeses, Marchants, and Communitie, and euery of you, be bounde and obliged by youre lettres vndre the commown sele of the towne of Edinbough to repaye vnto his Highnesse vndre lyke forme and at suche termes as they were furst paid, so that the King my Souuerain Lord wold make notice and knowleche of his pleasir and election in taking or refusing of the saide mariage or of the repayment of the said soumes of money before the fest of Alhalows next to come, lyke as in your said lettres, bering date at Edenburgh the iiith day of August last passed, it was conteigned alle at large; the pleasir and election of my said Souuerain Lord, for diuers causes and considerations him moving, is to reffuse the accomplisshing of the said mariage, and to haue the repaiement of all suche soumes of money, as by occasion of the same betrusted mariage his Highnesse hath paied; the said repayment to be had of you Provest, Burgeises, Marchants, and Communitie, and euery of you your heires and successoures, according to your bond and obligation afore rehearsed; and therof I yene you notice and knowliche by this writing, which I delyuere vnto you within the term in your said lettres lymitted and expressed, to alle ententes and effects whiche therof may ensue.<sup>1</sup>

Post cuius quidem scedule lectionem supradictus Gartier, quoddam procuratorium mandatum siue litteras procuratorii, magno sigillo ipsius christianissimi principis Edwardi Regis memorati, vt apparuit, in cera glauci coloris sigillatas; in cuius sigilli medio ex parte vna insculpta erat ymago regis coronati in throno sedentis, in manique sua dextra sceptrum habentis, et in manu sua sinistra quoddam pomum siue pilam rotundam tenentis, et in ipsius sigilli circumferencia scripta erant ista verba, videlicet: Edwardus Dei gracia Rex Anglie et Francie, et Dominus Hibernie;

After the reading of which schedule, the foresaid Garter then and there exhibited and shewed before the same venerable men a certain procuratorial mandate or letters of procuracy, sealed in wax of a bluish-gray colour, with the great seal of the said most Christian Prince Edward himself, as appeared; in the midst of which seal was engraved on one side the image of a King crowned, sitting on a throne, and having a sceptre in his right hand, and in his left hand holding a certain fruit or round ball, and on the circumference of the seal itself were written these words, viz., Edward, by the grace of God King of England and Archibaldo de Totrick et Patricio Bawbrynnny balliuis, Thoma Yare et Willelmo de Rynde, burgensibus et mercatoribus vt asserebantur, diete ville de Edinbourgh, et nonnullis aliis diete ville mercatoribus et burgensibus, in mei Johannis notarii supradicti et testium infranominatorum presencia, constitutus personaliter quidam Ricardus Lawson, diete ville Communis Clericus siue Recordator supradicto Gartier tunc ibidem presenti, ista verba subsequencia, siue alia eis in effectu consimilia, publice, alta et intelligibili voce dixit, protulit, et emisit, videlicet.

Archibald of Totrick, and Patrick Bawbrynnny, bailies, Thomas Yare and William Rynd, burgesses and merchants, as they were represented to be, of the said town of Edinburgh, and several other merchants and burgesses of the said town, in presence of me, John, notary aforesaid, and of the witnesses within named, appearing personally a certain Richard Lawson, Common Clerk or Recorder of the said town, said, pronounced, and uttered publicly, in a loud and intelligible voice, to the foresaid Garter then and there present the words following, or others similar in effect to them, viz.

We vnderstand by your Kyng's writting, and by you, the pleasure and election of your King according to his writting; and we trust to God that at the day of payment of the money, your King's Grace shall be so contentid, that he shall hold him pleased, and your King's writting is right welcome vnto vs; and we pray you of your good report to your King, and that ye will recommend vs to hym.

Super quibus premissis ipse Gartier me notarium publicum subscriptum sibi vnum vel plura publicum seu publica instrumentum siue instrumenta conficere requisivit.

Acta sunt hec, prout suprascribuntur et recitantur, sub anno Domini, indictione, pontificatu, mense, diebus et loco predictis. Presentibus tunc

Upon which premises the said Garter required me notary public underwritten to draw up for him one or more public (instrument or) instruments.

These things were done, as before written and rehearsed, in the year of our Lord in the indiction, pontificate, month, days, and place aforesaid; there being ibidem in supradicte scedule lectione, ipsiusque procuratorii exhibicione, ostensione, liberacione, et recepcione eorundem, Willelmo Wra alias Cok of Wra et Petro Geander, Dunelmensis et Lancastrensis diocesium ; presentibus eciam in dictorum verborum, sic vt prefertur per ipsum Ricardum Lawson prolatorum, emissione et prolacione, dictis Willelmo Wra, alias Cok of Wra, et Petro Geander, ac Northumberland heraldo armorum, Nicholao Hawley et Roberto Lawnder, Cicestrensis, Couentrensis et Lichfeldensis, ac Eboracensis diocesium, testibus ad premissa vocatis specialiter et rogatis.

Et ego Johannes Richardson, clericus Karliolensis diocesis, publicus auctoritate apostolica notarius, premisse scedule leccioni, ac dicti procuratorii exhibitioni, ostensioni, liberacioni, et recepcioni, ceterisque premissis omnibus et singulis, dum sic, vt premittitur, sub anno Domini, indictione, pontificatu, mense, diebus, et loco predictis agebantur et fiebant, vna cum prenomminatis testibus presens personaliter interfui, eaque omnia et singula sic fieri vidi et audiui, presens quoque publicum instrumentum, manu mea present then and there at the reading of the aforesaid schedule, and at the exhibition, shewing, and delivery of the same procuratory, and the reception of the same, William Wra, otherwise Cok of Wra, and Peter Geander, of the dioceses of Durham and Lancaster, being present also at the uttering and pronouncing of the said words pronounced as aforesaid by the said Richard Lawson, the said William Wra, otherwise Cok of Wra, and Peter Geander, and Northumberland herald at arms, Nicholas Hawley and Robert Lawnder, of the dioceses of Chichester, Coventry and Lichfield, and York ; witnesses to the premises specially called and summoned.

And I, John Richardson, clerk of the diocese of Carlisle, notary public by apostolic authority, was personally present, together with the forenamed witnesses, at the reading of the foregoing schedule, and at the exhibition, shewing, delivery and reception of the so called procuratory, and at the other premises, all and each, while they were done and performed as premised, in the year of our Lord, indiction, pontificate, month, days, and place foresaid, and I saw and heard, that all these things were so propria scriptum, exinde confeci, publicaui et in hanc publicam formam redegi; signoque et nomine meis solitis et consuetis signaui rogatus et requisitus in fidem et testimonium omnium et singulorum præmissorum. Et constat michi notario antedicto de interlineatione harum dictionum, lord, right, witt, takin, quas approbo ego notarius memoratus.

CHARTER by King James the Third, under his Great Seal, granting the office of Sheriffship to the Provost, Bailies, Clerk, Councillors, and Community of the Burgh and their successors ; and authorising them to hold a Peremptory Court of twenty-one days, when necessary ; and to make ordinances for the good government of the Burgh. Edinburgh, 16th November 1482.

JACOBUS Dei gracia Rex Scotorum : Omnibus probis hominibus totius terre sue clericis et laicis, salutem. Cum ad benevolencie officium spectare dinoscitur vt hijs plurimum tribuamus a quibus plurimum diligimur nullus humanitatis actus magis necessarius : hinc est quod nos alta mente considerantes fidem legalitatem amorem et benevolenciam cordialeque seruicium que dilecti et fideles nostri officarii moderni Burgi nostri de Edinburghe subscripti, scilicet : Patricius Baroune prepositus, David Craufurde Patricius de Balbirny de eodem Archibaldus Todrig balliui, Johannes Fowlare decanus gilde, Thomas Yare thesaurarius, Willelmus Farnely communis clericus, Johannes Napare Henricus Cant Willelmus Rynde Andreas Cramby Robertus Bonkil Willelmus Synclare Jacobus

JAMES, by the grace of God King of Scots ; To all good men of his whole land clerics and laics, greeting : Since no act of duty between man and man is recognized as more necessarily belonging to the obligation of benevolence than that we should bestow most on those by whom we are most beloved : Hence it is that we, considering with thoughtful mind, the faith, loyalty, love, benevolence, and cordial service which our beloved and faithful the present office-bearers of our Burgh of Edinburgh, under written, namely, Patrick Baroun, provost, David Craufurde, Patrick of Balbirny of that ilk, Archibald Todrik, baillies, John Fowlare, dean of guild, Thomas Yare, treasurer, William Farnely, common clerk, John Napare, Henry Cant, William Rynde, Andrew Cramby, Robert Bon-

Akeman Willelmus Turnoure Jacobus Richardsone Alexander Craufurde Thomas Carketill et Robertus Fokcart consules Burgi predicti, ac tota Communitas eiusdem Burgi, jam nobis provide prestiterunt cum carissimo fratre nostro Alexandro duce Albanie comite Marchie ac de Mar et Garvianche domino Vallis Anandie et Mannie, et nostram de carceribus ex Castro nostro de Edinburghe liberando personam in quo contra nostre voluntatis libitum fuimus detenti, suas personas grauibz vite opponendo periculis dietum castrum cum dicto fratre nostro obsidendo, ex quo insultu nostra jam persona Regia libertate gaudet. Ob id et pro singulari dilectione quam habemus erga predictos Prepositum Balliuos Clericum Consules et Communitatem, et pro suis gratuitis laboribus et seruiciis nobis impensis et exhibitis, dedimus et concessimus ac pro perpetuo confirmauimus, necnon tenore presentis carte nostre damus et concedimus ac pro nobis et successoribus nostris imperpetuum confirmamus dictis Preposito Balliuis Clerico Consulibus et Communitati eorumque successoribus eiusdem Burgi Prepositis Balliuis Clerico Consulibus et Communitatibus imperpetuum libertates et priuilegia subscripta uidelicet: Quod dicti Prepositus Balliij Consules et Communitas ac eorum successores habeant officium Vicecomitis infra se in dicto

kil, William Synclare, James Akeman, William Turnoure, James Richardsone, Alexander Craufurde, Thomas Carketill, and Robert Fokcart, councillors of the foresaid Burgh, and the whole community of the aforesaid Burgh, with our dearest brother Alexander duke of Albany earl of March and of Mar and Garvianche, lord of Annandale and Man, have already providently rendered to us in liberating our person from imprisonment in our Castle of Edinburgh, in which against the pleasure of our will we were held captive, exposing their persons to great peril of life, while besieging the said Castle with our said brother, in consequence of which attack our royal person now rejoices in liberty: Wherefore, and for the singular favor which we have towards the foresaid Provost, Bailies, Clerk, Councillors, and Community, and for their free labours and services expended upon and shewn to us, we have given and granted and for ever confirmed, and by the tenor of our present charter we give and grant, and for us and our successors for ever, confirm to the said Provost, Bailies, Clerk, Councillors, and Community, and their successors the Provosts, Bailies, Clerk, Councillors, and Community of the same Burgh the liberties and privileges under-written, namely: That the said

Burgo pro perpetuo; quocirca ne pro priore dignitate officiorum forsitan in posterum contrauersia aut contentio in dicto Burgo inter comburgenses convicinos et officarios burgales moueatur, ad illam contrauersiam expellendam sic quod justicie ministratio in eorum officiis prout ad quodlibet ipsorum officiorum spectat concorditer procedat et exequatur, statuimus volumus et ordinamus pro nobis et successoribus nostris per presentes pro perpetuo quod Prepositus dicti Burgi quicumque fuerit electus et eligendus semper sit Vicecomes infra dictum Burgum, et quod Balliui eiusdem Burgi electi et eligendi sint et erint ipsius Vicecomites coniunctim et diuisim Deputati imperpetuum; Cum plenaria potestate eisdem Vicecomiti et Deputatis coniunctim et diuisim curiam et curias Vicecomitis infra dictum Burgum inter convicinos proprios et inhabitantes eundem Burgum ac super alios quoscunque qui attachiati et criminales inventi fuerint infra dictum Burgum quociens eis videbitur expediens statuendi inchoandi affirmandi tenendi continuandi, et eodem officio Vicecomitis vtendi pro quacunque causa vel crimine quocunque seu criminibus contingentibus vel que occurrerint; ac super omnibus

Provost, Bailies, Councillors, and Community and their successors have the office of Sheriff within themselves in the said Burgh for ever; Wherefore, lest peradventure in time to come controversy or contention may be stirred in the said Burgh among the fellow-burgesses, neighbours, and Burgh officers in regard to the priority of dignity of offices, for the removing of such controversy, so that the administration of justice in these offices may go on and proceed amicably so far as belongs to each of these offices, we statute, will, and ordain for us and our successors by these presents for ever, that the Provost of the said Burgh whoever he shall be, elected and to be elected, be always Sheriff within the said Burgh, and that the Bailies of the same Burgh, elected and to be elected, be and shall be his Sheriffs-Depute conjunctly and severally for ever: With full power to the same Sheriffs and Deputes conjunctly and severally to appoint, begin, fence, hold, and continue a sheriff court or courts within the said Burgh between their own neighbours and those inhabiting the same Burgh, and upon all others whomsoever who shall have been attached and found criminals within the said Burgh, as often as to them shall seem expedient, and to use the same office of Sheriffship for any cause, crime or crimes happening or which may take place; and to call suits of the said sheriff-courts within the Burgh upon all personis que pro suis delictis et transgressionibus in ipso Burgo capte fuerint in futurum sectas dictarum curiarum Vicecomitis infra Burgum convocandi, absentes amerciandi; ac dictos transgressores et delinquentes eorumque convicinos transgredientes vel ut premittitur infra ipsos captiuos accusandi, ac ad mortem forisbannicionem seu per alias puniciones iuxta quantitatem delictorum legibus accordando justificandi et puniendi, ministros curie Vicecomitis necessarios constituendi de inhabitantibus comburgensibus et convicinis dicti Burgi et de nullis alijs extra dictum Burgum ad hoc imponendis; ac omnia alia et singula facienda gerendi et exereendi infra se et dictum Burgum que ad officium Vicecomitis de jure seu consuetudine regni nostri dinoscuntur pertinere. INSUPER concessimus ac tenore presentis carte nostre concedimus pro nobis et successoribus nostris dictis Preposito Balliuis Clerico et Communitati suisque successoribus predictis ad eorum proprium vsum pro perpetuo omnes et singulas eschaetas ac amerciamenta vniuersa et exactiones commoditates et prouentus de dicto officio Vicecomitis infra se et dictum Burgum ac super dictis captiuis delinquentibus contingentes et prouenientes et in futurum prouenire valentes, et super persons who shall have been apprehended in the same Burgh for their delicts and transgressions, and to fine absentees; and to accuse the said transgressors and delinquents and their neighbours transgressing, or as is premised prisoners within their bounds, and to justify and punish according to law with death, banishment, or any other punishments according to the nature of their crimes; to appoint necessary servants of the sheriff-court out of the inhabitants, fellow-burgesses, and neighbours of the said Burgh, to be appointed for this purpose, and of none others beyond the said Burgh; and to do, use, and execute all and sundry other things within themselves and the said Burgh which are known to belong by law or the custom of our kingdom to the office of Sheriff. Moreover, we have granted and by the tenor of our present charter grant for us and our successors to the said Provost, Bailies, Clerk, and Community and their foresaid successors, to their proper use for ever, all and sundry the escheats and whole fines and exactions, commodities, and profits happening and arising, and that may in time to come arise from the said office of Sheriff within themselves and the said Burgh, and in respect of the said prisoners eisdem eschaetis amerciamentis commoditatibus et prouenibus ad eorum libitum voluntatis libere pro perpetuo ad eorum commodum et vtilitatem disponendi; Tenebuntur tamen dicti Prepositus Ballini Consules et Communitas dicti Burgi de Edinburgh et eorum successores predicti pro dictis eschaetis amerciamentis et proventibus dicti officii Vicecomitis per nos eis concessis celebrari facere annuatim pro perpetuo vnum obitum Misse de Requiem Placebo Dirige cum nota in Ecclesia Collegiata Beati Egidii dicti Burgi tercio et quarto diebus mensis Augusti pro salute anime quondam progenitoris nostri ac anime nostre animarum antecessorum et successorum nostrorum cum oracionum suffragiis pro nostro prospero statu. PRETEREA quia per veram informationem nobis factam intelleximus tediosum tardum et longum processum de quatuor curiis dicti Burgi in ministracione justicie temporibus exactis habitum ductum et vsitatum, concessimus et pro nobis et successoribus nostris per presentes concedimus dictis Preposito Ballinis Clerico Consulibus et Communitati ac dicto Vicecomiti infra eundem Burgum et eorum successoribus predictis ministrisque suis et deputatis propter confluenciam aduentum aggressum et ingressum extraneorum et aliarum delinquents, and to dispone upon the same escheats, fines, commodities, and profits at their pleasure, freely for ever for their use and benefit. Nevertheless, the said Provost, Bailies, Councillors, and Community of the said Burgh of Edinburgh and their successors foresaid shall be bound for the said escheats, fines, and profits of the said office of Sheriff granted by us to them, to cause to be celebrated yearly for ever a funeral Mass of Requiem Placebo Dirige with chanting, in the Collegiate Church of St Giles of the said Burgh on the third and fourth days of the month of August, for the weal of the soul of our late progenitor, and of our soul, and of the souls of our ancestors and successors, with suffrages of prayers for our prosperity. Moreover, because we have understood by true information given to us that the process of the Four Courts of the said Burgh holden, conducted, and used at stated times for the administration of justice is tedious, slow, and long, we have granted and for us and our successors by these presents grant to the said Provost, Bailies, Clerk, Councillors, and Community, and to the said Sheriff within the said Burgh, and their successors foresaid and their servants and deputes, on account of the resort, arrival, approach, and entry of strangers and of other nations to the said Burgh

INSUPER concessimus et tenore presencium concedimus pro nobis et successoribus nostris prefatis Balliuis Clerico Consulibus Vicecomiti et Communitati eorumque successoribus predictis quod habeant liberam facultatem et plenariam potestatem imperpetuum condendi faciendi et as to the principal Burgh of our kingdom, using and dealing in merchandise, that on that account the said Provost, Bailies, Clerk, Sheriff, and their servants foresaid and their successors for ever have full power, for the purpose of administering, executing and decerning prompt and more speedy justice to their neighbours and strangers of other nations concerning any sums of money and merchandise, to appoint and hold a Peremptory Court of twenty-one days, lawful premonition of the same days preceding and being first made in the same Burgh among their said neighbours of the same Burgh and among the same neighbours and foresaid strangers only. And that the said Peremptory Court of twenty-one days be held at all times of the year as is required, without frivolous exceptions, dilatory pleas, or counter pleas, or holidays, as often as there shall be need of proceeding summarily de plano, the said premonition of twenty-one days being first lawfully made to the parties as is premised. Moreover we have granted, and by the tenor of these presents grant, for us and our successors, to the said Bailies, Clerk, Councillors, Sheriff, and Community, and their successors foresaid, that they have free faculty and full power for ever to frame, make, and ordain statutes and acts within the said

ordinandi statuta et acta infra dictum Burgum pro bono regimine et republica eiusdem, ac illa quociens opus fuerit et eis videbitur expediens proclamari et observari faciendi, ac infractores eorundem infra dictum Burgum inhabitantes et inhabitaturos cum rigore vel favore ad eorum discretionem puniendi. TEXENDUM et habendum dictum officium Vicecomitis infra predictum Burgum de Edinburgh, dictam Curiam Peremptoriam viginti unius dierum et facultatem acta et statuta condendi faciendi et proclamandi, ac omnes et singulas libertates et privilegia predicta in omnibus et per omnia ut prenotatum est prefatis Preposito Balliis Clerico Consulibus et Communitati dicti Burgi de Edinburgh et eorum successoribus eiusdem Burgi Prepositis Balliis Clericis Consulibus et Communitatibus de nobis et successoribus nostris in feodo et hereditate imperpetuum libere quiete plenarie integre honorifice bene et in pace sine aliquo retinimento vel revocatione quacunque aut contradictione aliquali nostri vel successorum nostrorum quorumcunque quovismodo inde faciendis infuturum. FACIENDO annuatim dicti Prepositus Balliui Consules et Communitas et eorum successores predictum obitum modo et forma diebus et loco suprascriptis tantum. QUARE stricte precipimus et TRANSMPT, on 21st March 1525-6, of CHARTER by James Archbishop of St Andrews, annexing the Church of Dunnottar to Trinity College, for the support of two Prebendaries, to be called respectively "the Dean" and "the Prebendary of Dunnottar." Edinburgh, 14th November 1502.

VNIUERSIS et singulis Sancte Matris Ecclesie filiis presentes literas inspecturis lecturis visuris pariterque audituris: Jacobus Symson, rector de Kyrkforthir ac officialis Sanctiandree principalis salutem in Domino sempiternam: Noueritis quod nos ad instanciam venerabilis viri magistri Alexandri Kynnynmond procuratoris specialiter constituti pro venerabili et egregio viro Domino Johanne Dingwaill preposito Ecclesie Collegiate Sancte Trinitatis prope Edinburgh Sanctiandree diocesis, omnes et singulos interesse habentes seu habere putantes, et quos infra-scriptum tangit negotium seu tangere poterit quomodolibet in futurum, ad comparendum coram nobis seu commissariis nostris, pluribus aut vno, certis die et loco inferius designatis, ad videndas et audiendas quasdam iteras recolende memorie ac quondam reuerendissimi in Cristo patris et

TO all and sundry sons of Holy Mother Church who shall examine, read, see, and likewise hear these present letters, James Symson, rector of Kyrkforthir, and Official principal of St Andrews, eternal salvation in the Lord: Know ye that we, at the instance of the venerable man Master Alexander Kynnynmond, procnrator specially constituted for a venerable and worthy man Sir John Dingwall, provost of the Collegiate Church of the Holy Trinity near Edinburgh, in the diocese of St Andrews, have caused to be summoned by public edict, affixed to the walls of the Metropolitan Church of St Andrews, all and sundry having, or thinking they have interest, and whom the matter hereafter mentioned affects, or may in any way affect in time to come, to appear before us or our commissaries, one or more, on a certain day and place hereinafter set forth, to see and hear certain letters—of the late most reverend father in Christ, and lord of venerated memory, James by divine domini, Jacobi miseratione diuina Sanctiandree Archiepiscopi totius regni Scotie primatis et apostolice sedis legati nati Ducis Rossie ac commendatarii perpetui monasterii de Dunfermling, in originalibus pergamine scriptas, eius sigillo rotundo roboratas, cum consensu et assensu venerabilium et religiosorum virorum, dominorum prioris ac conventus Sanctiandree, capitulariter congregatorum, eorum sigillo capitulari munitas, ac signo et subscriptione quondam circumspecti viri magistri Patricii Middilton notarii publici etiam subscriptas et roboratas, de et super erectione creatione et deputatione ecclesie parrochialis de Donnottir diete Sanctiandree diocesis, tam rectorie quam vicarie eiusdem, ac vniione annexatione et incorporatione eiusdem ecclesie per dictum reuerendissimum in duobis prebendis pro duobis prebendariis perpetuo Deo seruaturis in ecclesia Collegiata Sancte Trinitatis prope Edinburgh antedicta, prout in huiusmodi literis erectionis desuper confectis et conscriptis in libro registri monasterii Sanctiandree, et ibidem ad perpetuam rei memoriam registratis, plenius continetur, transsumi copiari publicari et exemplari ac in publicam transsumpti formam redigi, aliaque fieri et executioni demandari, que in hac parte de jure requiruntur, in valuis mercy Archbishop of St Andrews, primate of the whole kingdom of Scotland, and legate natus of the apostolic see, duke of Ross, and perpetual commendator of the monastery of Dunfermling, written in the original on parchment, confirmed by his seal, with the consent and assent of venerable and religious men, the lord prior and convent of St Andrews assembled in chapter, sealed with the chapter seal, and subscribed and affirmed with the sign and subscription of the late circum-spect man Master Patrick Middilton, notary public, of and concerning the erection, creation, and deputation of the parish church of Dunnottar in the said diocese of St Andrews, as well parsonage as vicarage of the same, and of the union, annexation, and incorporation of the same church, by the said most reverend, into two prebends for two prebendaries to serve God for ever in the foresaid Collegiate Church of the Holy Trinity near Edinburgh, as in the same letter of erection made thereupon and engrossed in the register book of the monastery of St Andrews, and registered there for perpetual memory of the fact, is more fully contained,—transumed, copied, published, and drawn up in the the form of a public transumpt, and other things done and demanded to be done as in this part is required by law: On which ecclesie metropolitane Sanctiandree per edictum publicum ibidem affixum, citari fecimus: Quo die adueniente et comparente coram nobis dicto procuratore prefati domini prepositi et huiusmodi librum registri prefati monasterii Sanctiandree coram nobis judicialiter exhibente et vocatis interesse habentibus et non comparentibus, ipsis contumacibus reputatis, huiusmodi librum registri, necnon prefatam erectionem coram nobis collationatam in eodem expressatam, cum originali de uerbo in uerbum concordantem, per testes iuratos sufficienter in forma juris recognitam, transsumi, copiari, publicari, et per notarium publicum subscriptum exemplari, et in formam juris redigi decreuimus, cum omni juris solemnitate, quod presenti transsumpto siue instrumento publico, erectionem antedictam in se continenti, tanta fides in iudicio et extra ac vbique locorum de cetero detur et adhibeatur qualis et quanta prefate erectioni originali daretur et adhiberetur si in medium produceretur.

Sequitur tenor prefate erectionis dicte Ecclesie de Donnottir, cum suis pertinentiis, prout in huiusmodi libro registri dicti monasterii Sanctiandree registratur et continetur, de quo supra fuit mentio.

JACOBUS miseratione diuina Sanctiandree Archiepiscopus, totius regni day, compearing before us the said procurator of the foresaid Provost, and exhibiting before us judicially the said register book of the foresaid monastery of St Andrews, and those having interest having been cited, and not compearing, being reckoned disobedient, we decerned with all solemnity of law that the said register book, and the foresaid erection contained in the same, having been collated before us, and acknowledged by witnesses duly sworn in legal form as agreeing with the original word for word, should be transumed, copied, published, and transcribed, and drawn up in legal form, by the underwritten notary public, that as much credit may be given and accorded, both in and out of court and everywhere else, to the present transumpt or public instrument, containing in it the foresaid erection, as would be given and accorded to the original erection if it were publicly produced.

Here follows the tenor of the foresaid erection of the said church of Dunnotter with its pertinents, as registered and contained in the said register book of the monastery of St Andrews, of which mention has been above made:—

JAMES by divine mercy Archbishop of St Andrews, Primate of the whole

Scotie primas et apostolice sedis legatus, Dux Rossie, et commendatarius perpetuus monasterii de Dunfermling etc. vniuersis sancte matris Ecclesie filiis ad quorum notitias presentes litere peruenerint, salutem in omnium saluatore. Ut ecclesiarum omnium et presertim collegiatarum per prouinciam et diocesim nostram consistentium, et ad illarum decorem inibi dignitates obtinentium personarum status salubriter dirigi seruarique possit honestius, ac numerus personarum diuinum ibidem psallentium officium oportunior habeatur, nostri libenter fauoris impertimur presidium, potissime cum temporum requirit necessitas, cause persuadent rationabiles, et diuini cultus augmentum salubriter id exposcit: Exhibita siquidem nobis nuper per dilectum nostrum clericum magistrum Johannem Brady prepositum Ecclesie Collegiate Sancte Trinitatis prope Edinburgh nostre diocesis, petitio continebat, quod in dicto Collegio tantum octo prebendarii pro nunc existunt, et si numerus prebendariorum augetur, in non modicum diuini cultus augmentum et ipsius ecclesie collegiate honorem et vtilitatem cederet et deueniret, et sicut eadem petitio subiungebat si parochialis ecclesia de Donnottir nostre diocesis, ad nostram collationem et plenariam dispositionem spectans et kingdom of Scotland, and Legate of the apostolic see, Duke of Ross, and perpetual commendator of the monastery of Dunfermling, etc. : To all the sons of Holy Mother Church to whose notice these present letters shall come, greeting in the Saviour of all: We willingly grant our friendly aid, especially when the necessity of the times requires, reasonable causes induce, and the salutary advancement of divine worship demands, that the condition of all churches, especially collegiate, throughout our province and diocese, and for their honour, of persons holding dignities therein, may be wholesomely regulated, and more creditably maintained, and that the number of persons chanting divine service in the same may be more adequate; inasmuch as a petition lately presented to us by our beloved clerk, Master John Brady, provost of the Collegiate Church of the Holy Trinity near Edinburgh, in our diocese, set forth that in the said College there are now only eight prebendaries, and that if the number of prebendaries were increased, it would tend to the great advancement of divine worship, and to the honour and profit of the Collegiate Church itself, and as the same petition went on to say, if the parish church of Dunnottir in our diocese, belonging and pertaining to our collation and free grant, were pertinens, dicto Collegio vniretur et incorporaretur, dueque prebende pro duobis prebendariis ex fructibus dicte ecclesie parochialis, in augmentum dictorum octo prebendarum inibi existentium constituerentur, crearentur et erigerentur, ipsi ecclesie collegiate plurimum prouideretur, cultusque diuinus exinde augmentaretur in eadem; quare per dictum magistrum Johannem nobis fuit humiliter supplicatum ut super hiis prouidere de ordinaria autoritate dignaremur: Nos vero attendentes petitionem huiusmodi justam et rationi consonam, de premissis omnibus et singulis ac eorum circumstantiis vniuersis inquisiuimus, et nos diligenter informauius, et per informationem eandem reperimus omnia et singula per dictum magistrum Johannem asserta et narrata, ut premititur, vera et veritate fuleiri: Idcirco autoritate nostra ordinaria qua fungimur in hac [parte] matura deliberatione et solempni tractatu cum priore et capitulo nostre ecclesie in talibus fieri solito prehabitis, ad Dei laudem et Sancte et Indiuidue Trinitatis gloriam et honorem, et in diuini cultus augmentum, duas prebendas pro duobis prebendariis perpetuo Deo seruituris in eadem ecclesia Collegiata Sancte Trinitatis, de united to and incorporated with the said College, and two prebends for two prebendaries were constituted, created, and erected out of the fruits of the said parish church, in addition to the said eight prebendaries which are now therein, the said Collegiate Church would be well provided for, and divine worship in the same advanced thereby; wherefore we were humbly besought by the said Master John that we would deign of our authority as Ordinary to provide in regard to these matters. And we, considering the said petition to be just and agreeable to reason, have diligently inquired and informed ourselves concerning all and singular the premises and their circumstances, and by the same information have found all and singular the things so asserted and narrated by the foresaid Master John to be true and supported by the truth: Therefore by our authority as Ordinary, which we exercise in these parts, after mature deliberation and solemn consultation previously had with the prior and chapter of our church, as is wont in such cases, to the praise of God and the glory and honour of the Holy and Undivided Trinity, and for the advancement of divine worship, we have created, erected, and deputed, as by these presents we create, erect, and depute two prebends for two prebendaries, to be described below, to serve God for ever in the said Collegiate Church of the Holy Trinity out of the fruits of the said parish fructibus dicte ecclesie parochialis de Donnottir per nos inferius designandis, creauimus ereximus et deputauimus, prout per presentes creamus erigimus et deputamus, ac dictam ecclesiam parrochiam de Donnottir, cum omnibus iuribus et pertinentiis suis, imperpetuum, dictis duobis prebendariis pro suis prebendis, vniuius anneximus et incorporauimus, ac exnunc vnius annectimus et incorporamus; ita quod cedente vel decedente Magistro Valtero Stratoun moderno ipsius parochialis ecclesie rectore, seu illam aliis quomodolibet demittente, etiam si actu quouis modo nunc valet, liceat dictis duobis prebendariis corporalem realem et actualem possessionem dicte parochialis ecclesie iurium et pertinentiarum eiusdem autoritate propria apprehendere, ac in suos dictarum prebendarum ac vicarii per nos creandi vsus et vtilitatem conuertere et perpetuo retinere, alterius superioris licentia super hoc minime requisita: Primus vero istorum prebendariorum vocabitur Decanus, qui in absentia prepositi erit principalis et presidens in choro ac capitulo eiusdem ecclesie, habebitque iurisdictionem iis, prepositi totalem ipso absente, preposito vero presente cessabit omnis iurisdictionis et potestas dicti decani; sed primus et principalis post prepositum in ecclesia ac capitulo church of Dunnottir; and we have united, annexed, and incorporated, and now unite, annex, and incorporate the said parish church of Dunnottir, with all its rights and pertinents for ever to the said two prebendaries for their prebends, so that upon the resignation or decease of Master Walter Stratoun, the present rector of the said parish church, or his demitting it to others in any way, even if he now has any power to do so, it shall be lawful to the said two prebendaries to take corporal, real, and actual possession of the said parish church, and of the rights and pertinents of the same, by their proper authority, and to convert and for ever retain the same for the use and profit of the said prebendaries themselves and of a vicar to be appointed by us, the licence of any other superior being nowise required for that effect. Moreover, the first of these prebendaries shall be called the Dean, who, in the absence of the provost, shall be principal and president in the choir and chapter of the same church, and shall have all the jurisdiction of the provost in the same, the provost himself being absent, in his presence however the whole jurisdiction and power of the said Dean shall cease, but he shall have the first and principal place after the provost in the church and inter ceteros prebendarios habeatur, habebitque pro sua sustentatione medietatem omnium et singulorum fructuum oblationum et decimarum tam rectorie quod vicarie dicte ecclesie de Dunnottir vnite. Secundus vero prebendarius vocabitur Prebendarius de Dunnottir, eritque expertus ac bene eruditus in organis et ludet in illis festis congruentibus, qui celi-brabit pro Jacobo moderno Archiepiscopo Sanctiandree fratre germane Regis Scoeie, missam cum dispositus fuerit, in vndecima hora ante meridiem, habebitque pro sua sustentatione aliam dimedietatem fructuum decimarum et oblaconum vicarie et rectorie eiusdem ecclesie de Dunnottir. Et ambo isti prebendarii erant sacerdotes ac docti et experti in legendo et construendo plano cantu preket not et discantu, et faciant obedientiam proposito in primo introitu iurabuntque seruare statuta ac omnia et singula in primeua fundacione dicte Ecclesie Collegiate ordinata, ac personalem et continuam facient residentiam apud dictam ecclesiam collegiatam per seipsos et non per alios, sienti ceteri prebendarii dicte ecclesie. Et ne dicta nostra parrochialis ecclesia de Dunnottir propter presentem nostram erectionem et vnionem chapter among the other prebendaries; and shall have for his maintenance the half of all and singular the fruits, oblations, and teinds, as well parsonage as vicarage of the said united church of Dunnottir. The second prebendary shall be called the prebendary of Dunnottir, and shall be expert and well learned in organs, and shall play upon them on the proper feasts, and he shall celebrate mass for James present Archbishop of St Andrews, brother-german of the King of Scotland, when he shall be appointed, at the eleventh hour before noon, and shall have for his maintenance the other half of the fruits, teinds, and oblations, parsonage and vicarage of the said church of Dunnottir. And both the said prebendaries shall be priests, and learned and expert in reading and understanding plain chant, "preket not" and responding, and shall make obedience to the provost on their first entrance, and shall swear to observe the statutes and all and sundry the things ordained in the original foundation of the said Collegiate Church, and shall be in personal and constant residence at the said Collegiate Church by themselves, and not by others, like the rest of the prebendaries of the said church. And lest our said parish church of Dunnottir should by reason of our present erection and union be deprived of due services, and the cure of souls therein be neglected, we debitis fraudatur obsequiis et animarum cura in ea neglegatur, statuimus et ordinamus ut dicti duo prebendarii annuatim persoluant viginti mercas monete Scotie currentis vicario pensionario pro sua sustentatione, videlicet decanus decem mercas in festo Penthecostes, et prebendarius de Donnottir alias decem mercas in feste Sancti Martini in hieme inde sequente: Quamquidem vicariam exnunc similiter erigimus et constituimus per presentes, ipseque vicarius jura nostra episcopalia archidiaconalia et alia ante presentem erectionem et unionem consueta persoluet, curamque animarum dicte parrochialis ecclesie et parochie geret et exerceat: Collationem institutionem ac omnimodam dispositionem dictarum prebendarum ac vicarie sic per nos erectarum cum vacare contigerit, nobis et successoribus nostris, Sanctiandree archiepiscopis pro tempore existentibus, omnimodo pertinere volumus ac decernimus: Et quotienscunque contigerit nos aut aliquem ex successoribus nostris dictas prebendas aut aliquam earundem pro tempore vacantem conferre persone seu personis non qualificatis et instructis juxta tenorem antike foundationis dicte ecclesie collegiate et nostram ordinationem presentibus expressam, licebit sit preposito et prebendariis dicte ecclesie collegiate appoint and ordain that the said two prebendaries shall pay yearly twenty merks of the current money of Scotland to a vicar pensioner for his maintenance, videlicet, the dean ten merks at the feast of Whitsunday, and the prebendary of Dunnottir other ten merks at the feast of Martinmas in the winter thereafter following; Which vicarage we now in like manner erect and constitute by these presents, and the same vicar shall pay our episcopal, archidiaconal, and other dues wont to be paid before the present erection and union, and shall bear and exercise the cure of souls in the said parish church and parish. We will and decern the collation, institution, and every kind of disposition of the said prebends and vicarage thus by us erected, when they shall happen to be vacant, to belong to us and our successors the Archbishops of St Andrews for the time being: And whenever we or any of our successors shall confer the said prebends or any of them, vacant for the time, on a person or persons not qualified and learned according to the tenor of the old foundation of the said Collegiate Church, and our ordinance expressed in these presents, it shall be lawful for the provost and prebendaries of the said Collegiate Church for the time being to decline and pro tempore existentibus talem seu tales quibus contigerit dictas prebendas aut earum aliquam, per nos aut nostrum successorem conferri tanquam indignos et indignos repellere et refutare: Collationesque tales sit per nos vel successorem nostrum factas et fiendas, exnunc prout extunc et econverso, nullas et inualidas esse decernimus: Saluis nobis et successoribus nostris juribus episcopalibus ac archidiaconalibus vel aliis de jure vel consuetudine ante presentem nostram erectionem vnionem et incorporationem debitis et consuetis. LETTER by King James V. to Pope Clement VII., praying his Holiness to grant Indulgences to those who should visit the Trinity College, and aid in the completion of the building. Stirling, 22d March 1531.

Sanctissimo domino nostro Pape.

BEATISSIME pater, post humillimam prostrationem ad pedes Sanctissimos. Est Collegium non incelebre juxta oppidum nostrum Edinburgi, ab olim Serenissima principe Maria Regina Scotie, proavia nostra, fundatum, cuius prepositus est Iohannes Dingvalli, vir prudens et probus, Romane Sedis prothonotarius, qui jam secum destinavit choro magnifice extructo reliquum templi equare, unde opus non sine ingenti impensa absolvendum aggressus est, quod ut facilius perficiat, et ut communi juvetur auxilio, cupit ut Vestrae Sanctitatis beneficio gratiose indulgentie omnibus vere penitentibus, contritis et confessis Collegium hoc in festo dive Trinitatis, et per octavas, devotionis causa visitantibus, ac fabrice eiusdem adiutrices manus porrigentibus, pro ipsius prepositi

To our most holy Lord, the Pope.

MOST blessed Father, after most humble prostration at your most holy feet, there is a somewhat famous College, near our town of Edinburgh, founded by the most serene Princess, Mary, formerly Queen of Scotland, our great grandmother, the Provost of which is John Dingwall, a prudent and worthy man, prothonotary of the Roman see, who has resolved to make the rest of the church conformable to the magnificently constructed choir, having thus undertaken a work not to be completed without great expense, which that he may the more easily accomplish, and that he may be assisted by the help of the public, he desires that by the beneficence of your Holiness, gracious indulgences may be granted, for the lifetime only of the Provost himself, to all who shall visit the College on the feast of the Holy Trinity, and during the Octave, for the purpose of devotion, being truly penitent, contrite, and making confession, and who shall put forth helping hands to the building of the same, vita tantum concedantur, possitque, per se vel idoneos presbyteros, ejusmodi indulgentias consequendi causa concurrentium confessiones audire, atque illos absolvere. Quare Vestram Sanctitatem rogamus, (ut) his tam piis desideriis benigne annuas, et indulgentias quam amplissimas, ceteraque omnia concedas, que prepositus ipse supplicando juste postulaverit. Beatissime pater, eandem Vestram Sanctitatem Deus Optimus Maximus quam longissime felicem conservet. Ex arce nostra Stirlingensi, vigesimo secundo die mensis Martii, anno ab incarnatione Dominica trigesimo primo supra millesimum et quingentesimum.

and that he may be empowered to hear the confessions of those who shall assemble for the sake of obtaining such indulgences, and to absolve them, either personally, or by suitable presbyters: Wherefore we pray your Holiness graciously to assent to these so pious wishes, and to grant indulgences as plenary as possible, and all other things, which the Provost himself may with justice humbly crave. Most blessed Father, may God Almighty long preserve your Holiness in felicity. From our castle of Stirling on the 22d day of the month of March in the year from the incarnation of our Lord One thousand five hundred and thirty-one.

The devout Son of your Holiness, the King of Scots,
JAMES R.
